

February 13, 2013

Dear Educator,

I am writing on behalf of Evan Williams. I have had the pleasure of Evan being a part of my technology team for the past two years. More specifically, Evan is a cornerstone of our online learning initiatives.

Evan is dynamic, thoughtful, hardworking, dedicated, and one of the most creative people I have ever met. Evan has taken her position to levels beyond what was originally envisioned for the role. We were looking for someone who could help teachers with the technical side of Moodle. Evan's talents have allowed us to provide creative design to our online courses, assist teachers with the technical aspects of Moodle, and most importantly the ability to help teachers with instructional design. The move to online instruction is really a paradigm shift and teachers need assistance. Evan has the skills and personality to step alongside teachers and achieve the end result they which they are looking.

Evan also provides professional development for teachers in our region and is quite comfortable delivering a wide range of topics. She is just as capable and comfortable working alongside students and has been a tremendous asset in our Tek4s (Tech Force) program.

Of course I do not know the specifics of the position you are trying to fill. However, I do know that Evan is a very talented young woman and that she has the desire and capabilities to be successful in whatever role she is placed. In the future, I would not hesitate to be a part of any team that Evan was a part of.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Vince Humes".

Vince Humes
Director Technology Solutions